The Best of the Bluegrass

The heart of the Bluegrass region is constantly growing. As the tourism, health care, retail, educational and cultural center for both central and eastern Kentucky, the Bluegrass region offers a diverse economy and strong workforce. More than 550,000 residents have made the greater Lexington area their home. The region also serves as the home for major corporations such as Lexmark International, Toyota Motor Manufacturing USA, LBX Company, Clark Material Handling Company, Tempur Sealy and Alltech—just to name a few.

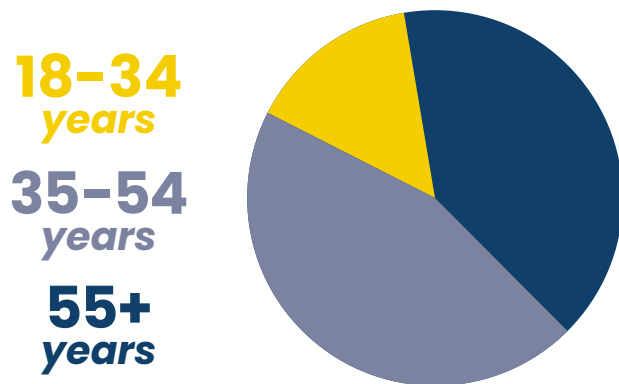

Leverage a Captive Audience

As advertisers seek new opportunities to reach their customers, they will quickly learn that an airport provides a unique chance to capture the upscale, sophisticated consumer.
